Volume 37 Newsletter | July, August, September 2015

I can't believe it's that time of the year! A season of chilling, thrilling and fun giving celebrations. This is the time when paper store crafters have to get their game on to entice you to learn a craft or be the creative one to make the party favors or invitations and set the tone to a fantastic event. Make it memorable and yes, copy our ideas... it's the best compliment!

Writing the summer newsletter is always bittersweet for me because that means my one and only child Miles will be starting another grade higher.. yes.. one year older.. omg... fifth grade! Soon... he's off to high school!

September is also an anniversary month for the Paper Garden Boutique... we turn 9 years old! We're calling it "Divine Nine" — Mark your calendars for September 5th and 6th — a special discount weekend and an awesome free make and take. To kick off our "after party" of the divine nine anniversary... we have guest designer Julie Ebersole's classes in September... our most popular guest designer... and she has three best ideas for the holidays... and she will even make you laugh for a minute or two! Also look for a new theme... last newsletter we did black and white cards.. this summer... we'll change of theme of colorful cards! See what color puts you in the mood!

Whatever this summer season brings you... may it sprinkle cupcakes, candy, sushi, designer purses and Disney vacations for you... all the things that make me happy too!

🌸 Stephanie Nishikawa-Yee, owner, The Paper Garden Boutique

And the college is... Santa Clara University. Go Broncos!
Congratulations Brent Hosoume. Fall of 2015, School of Engineering.

Guest designer: Julie Ebersole

Please join us for another "good times" with designer Julie Ebersole. By now, you probably think she's a part of our staff! It's with great pleasure she continues to come back to Sacramento. Please sign up soon for her classes as she has always been booked solid! Check out her blog and get to know her at www.papertrufflez.com. She will teach two classes. Also, classes will be held at PIATTI Ristorante next door to our boutique. Bring lunch money and they will bring you lunch while you create her bonus cards. So much fun!

**Remember to bring your own scissors and adhesive.*
