Newsletter Volume 59 | January / February / March 2021

I have been looking forward to the start of a new year. It couldn't come sooner. The year of the Ox rolls in this year. Are you the lucky one who will have carry on the good luck and fortune! Your characteristics are persistent, simple and honest. You are a leader with strong faith and devotion to work. Chinese New Year is on February 12th this year. If you are born during the Year of the Ox... consider yourself lucky!

Last year, I didn't feel so lucky, I had to shut my doors down for two months, I had to reinvent myself by creating kits and buy fun things for my store like puzzles... and I have had to work all by myself... but I feel like a winner! Yes, a winner! Because you have been so kind to shop in my store, continue to craft and even come by to say hello! Fast forward to 2021, I am still open and you are the reason. Thank you again. I don't know how many times, I can say it... but thank you! You inspire me!

Let's get this start of the new off to a positive and perfect start! I'm ready for some fun times with you all again and again and again!

a little tid bit about me... I always thought I was tall for an Asian, I played center for an Asian basketball league growing up and I was horrible! My dentist in Fremont was Dr. Yamaguchi and he asked if I could play because they only had four young girls, at the time I was 12. I played on the same team as Kristi Yamaguchi's sister Lori. We had a great time and it was my ticket into getting some Japanese American friends my age. I had so much fun with these girls, but I really disliked getting my hair messed up and sweating and feeling winded running back and forth across the court and we never got benched because there were just five of us. Fast forward to my son Miles... he's now five foot 10 and 15 years old. He doesn't like basketball too! I asked him why? He said, "I don't like to sweat, I don't like to smell like sweat and I don't like running for the ball. When I'm in the pool, you can't tell if you are sweating, it feels more refreshing." Yep, he's my son.
