Newsletter Volume 60 | April / May / June 2021

March 18th was the official date I had to shut down, and I clearly remember I reopened on May 9th — it was two days before Mother's Day and I had made about six dozen mother's day cards to sell... I wanted to be prepared for the big rush... I think I sold three! Slowly but surely, the rush is coming back. Not in a big way, but a soft gentle rush where customers are eagerly coming in to create special card treasures to send "snail mail." Now, there's a different vibe at the Paper Garden. I love opening my front store doors to hear the kling, klang of silverware from Piattis outdoor patio dining... to me it's beautiful music to my ears. I love hearing the laughter at the tables and the kids playing... I'm hungry for more sound effects and sunlight to keep the customers coming back! To me, it means, there's light at the end of the tunnel... we're not there yet, but it's better than being totally shut down. This spring, I encourage you to send your friends and family some "snail mail." I look forward to letters that are written from longtime friends. Just a simple hello note is enough to make my day!

Also, try our take home class kits. You get six cards in each kit and you're guaranteed some beautiful handmade fun! Spread the joy and send them out ~ your recipients won't be disappointed!

*a little tid bit about me, my son Miles is going to be 16 on June 30!!! OMG!!! I remember I wanted to get my license on my 16th birthday, I was born on Veteran's Day, so the federal and state offices got the day off... DANG! I had to wait until Nov. 12th. My mom drove me to my dmV appointment and I was ready to pass the driving test. WHOOPS --I tried to beat a car crossing into the next lane and after about two minutes into my driving lesson, the instructor told me to PLEASE head back. I flunked!! My friend found out and he wanted to play a joke on me, so he took a stop sign, a yield sign, a 25 mph sign and school crossing sign and somehow pulled them out of the dirt and placed them in front of my house! My dad, being a second generation Japanese American thought someone played a racial joke—he called the police and they couldn't understand how my friend pulled those signs and got them in front of my house! I didn't dare say who it was or who I knew did it.. noooooo way, my dad would turn into a samurai – it was my secret. My dad said this boy better never come over and date me or else... he would start cleaning his prized Winchester hunting gun.

Well, fast forward to 2021, I sure hope Miles is a better driver than me! And of course, Miles thinks I passed the first time
