Where creativity blossoms!

Summer Newsletter | Volume 77 | July / August / September 2025

19! That's how old the Paper Garden will turn on Labor Day, Monday, September 1. 19 years of making wonderful friends, working with my awesome cousins Kelley, Laurie and Christel, giving everyone the front row seat into my son Miles' life.. he's now 20! And even giving Auntie Naomi (packaging queen), my devoted mom (keeps the floors and bathroom clean) and my husband Ken (the behind the scenes paper cutter and gift wrapper) a job every now and then.

So let's get this party started and come by the boutique on Friday, August 29th, Saturday, August 30th, Sunday, August 31st, and Monday, September 1st for four days of free make and takes.

On Friday, we will give you a stamp card... get it punched each day and redeem your card for a free class! It's our way of showing you we love our customers and thank you for keeping us in business for 19 years! It's also a way that I can show you my gratitude and grace for supporting my dream of opening a paper boutique... never did I dream that in reality, I would still be open and that I continue to love my job... and coming to open these doors everyday, it's such a special place with wonderful people! Thank you, every single day, I feel the love.

A little tid bit about me...

When people ask me stories about my past TV career, the number one question is... who is the nicest famous person you interviewed? I think I would have to say Ricki Lake. I went to New York to interview, Ricki, Maury Povich and Rosie O'Donnell, the series I reported on was called talk shows... and why we tune in, so off to the big apple we went. All three hosts were super super nice, but Ricki, who is the same age as I, invited me to continue talking to her without the cameras and said come with me and let's continue the conversation in my dressing room, and you can watch my make-up artists do my hair and face! I almost peed my pants, I followed behind her like a lost puppy dog! She showed me all of her set clothing (never the same suit twice—and there were racks of it!), her make up drawers were full of eye shadows and brushes, and my absolute favorite... Ricky had a full closet of stocked delicious snacks. I wasn't shy and picked sugar babies... we became instant friends over the love of sugar, she gave us permission to video her show while they taped her show live, so we were right on the stage with her... after the show, she gave me her personal email and I wrote it nervously on my notepad and vowed to email her back, but somehow... I lost it!!!! I was thinking, shucks, no more future bff for me... no more sharing high calorie snacks, and saddest of all... I never got to say thank you for the most memorable one hour hang out with a tv talk star who gave me the insight that we are all human... everyone is just like you and me, we just have different job titles.. thank you Ricki.. hoping one day we can connect again!
